

Please do NOT allow cellular use aboard airborne aircraft. As regularly exhibited in all public venues, people do not have the manners to use their cell phones privately, thoughtfully and courteously. In a confined space, such as an airline cabin, the noise and annoyance to the majority of passengers that cell phone useage will bring especially to those in close proximity does not outweigh the limited benefit that potentially will be achieved by a few people. I am an elite, multi-million mile flyer. My feedback is based on experience.
